Re: Sterling Serino v. Afni, Inc.
Case No. 0:10-cv-01812 JRT/JJK
Hennepin County District Court File No. 27-CV-10-7114
Our File No. 2559-10

Dear Magistrate Judge Keyes:

We write, with Your Honor's permission, to follow-up on this matter after the June 23, 2010 Pretrial Scheduling Conference at which Plaintiff pro se failed to appear. At that time we indicated to the Court that we had discovered that Plaintiff was in Chapter 7 bankruptcy. We have since learned that Plaintiff has moved to New York. We now write to follow up with regard to issues raised by these developments. Below is a timeline of relevant dates and a synopsis of our current position.

March 9, 2010 – The call upon which Plaintiff bases his allegations takes place on this date. Plaintiff alleges that Afni violated the FDCPA by speaking with his girlfriend and revealing the existence of the debt. Afni denies this and asserts that Plaintiff's girlfriend represented herself as Plaintiff's spouse. It is proper to discuss a consumer debt with the consumer's spouse.

March 26, 2010 - Plaintiff files for bankruptcy protection under Chapter 13, Bankruptcy # 10-42172

April 6, 2010 – Plaintiff files his lawsuit against Afni.

April 26, 2010 - Plaintiff's Chapter 13 bankruptcy is converted to Chapter 7. A copy of the docket for the bankruptcy file is included with this letter.

Earlier this week, Mr. Serino called counsel for Afni out of the blue. He indicated that he had moved to New York.

Afni is considering several options, including seeking dismissal of the suit on one or more bases. First, even assuming Plaintiff's claim has merit, Plaintiff lacks standing to assert such a claim as such claims belong to the bankruptcy estate. Second, Plaintiff was required to list the alleged claim as an asset in bankruptcy and it appears that he failed to do so; hence the suit should be dismissed on the basis of fraud on the bankruptcy court. (A review of the bankruptcy filings did not reveal that Plaintiff had identified his claim against Afni.)

We respectfully submit that this matter should be dismissed for lack of standing on the part of Plaintiff. We are considering our options in this regard.

Very truly yours,

Susan E. Gustad
